

HOWARD FORGE PRESS A HOWARD FAMILY STORY

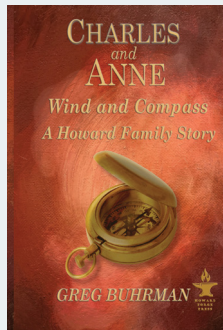

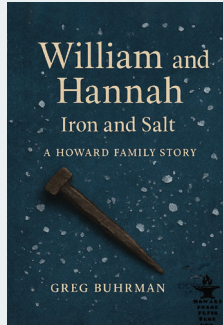

SCHOOL & EDUCATOR SELL SHEET

WEBSITE

Put a human story behind the dates, wars, and political movements students encounter in history.

A Howard Family Story uses character-driven historical fiction to explore how large historical events reshape ordinary lives and families. The novels offer natural entry points for discussion of social class, political change, loyalty, identity, family legacy, and moral choice.

William and Hannah: Iron and Salt

Historical fiction with teen/adult crossover appeal

A disinherited English nobleman and a blacksmith's daughter forge a new life through the Seven Years' War, colonial America, and the American Revolution.

HISTORICAL FOCUS Seven Years' War • French and Indian War • Colonial America • American Revolution • Blacksmithing • Social class • Migration & identity

Paperback | 6 x 9 | 218 pages | $16.99 | ISBN 979-8-218-66582-1 | Howard Forge Press

Charles and Anne: Wind and Compass

Historical fiction with teen/adult crossover appeal

An unwanted marriage unfolds against the political crisis that becomes England's Glorious Revolution, forcing Charles and Anne to confront loyalty, conscience, family, and power.

HISTORICAL FOCUS Restoration England • James II • William & Mary • Glorious Revolution • Political & religious conflict • Loyalty & conscience

Paperback | 6 x 9 | 246 pages | $16.99 | ISBN 979-8-9952869-1-2 | Howard Forge Press

WAKE COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARIES

Both titles are part of the Wake County Public Library collection.

INSTITUTIONAL ORDERING

Available through Ingram for bookstore, library, and school ordering.

Wholesale discount: 55%.

CLASSROOM & LIBRARY CONNECTIONS History • English/Language Arts • Independent reading • Book clubs • Discussion of liberty, loyalty, class, identity, family obligation, and moral choice.

ORDERING Both paperbacks available through Ingram for bookstore, library, and school ordering.

GREG BUHRMAN | HOWARD FORGE PRESS

howardforgepress@gmail.com | howardforgepress.com

Author visits &
speaking available